

CEP School Catalogue 2026

Since 1922

Since 1922, Christian Education Publications (CEP) has produced resources for schools grounded in the belief that God is the source of all truth and that his word the Bible is where he reveals himself and his saving purpose in Christ Jesus.

Our resources continue to provide rigorous and engaging material on aspects of belief, faith and truth, and the relevance of the Christian message in our world today, and have been used by millions of students in Australia and around the world.

WELCOME

In a world with so many ideas competing for students' attention, the task of teaching Christianity is both a privilege and a profound responsibility. As you present the timeless truths of the gospel in an academically rigorous and spiritually compelling way, students have an opportunity not just to learn about the Christian faith, but also to consider meaningfully what it means for their lives and context.

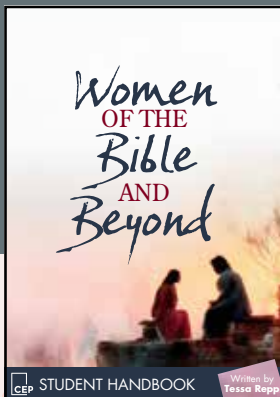

This catalogue has been carefully designed to support you in that mission. Our curriculum is built on a foundation of biblical fidelity, intellectual excellence, and engaging pedagogy. Every resource is crafted to help students think deeply, articulate their learning clearly, and be able to state, whether they are believers or not, the claims of Christianity not just as an abstract idea but as what Christians believe is the living truth that shapes all of life.

Whether you are looking for a structured program, supplementary materials, or fresh inspiration for your classroom, we invite you to explore these offerings which have been developed by educators who share your commitment to academic integrity and spiritual formation.

You'll see in the pages ahead our new secondary resource, Women of the Bible and Beyond. Designed to be suitable for all independent schools (not just single-sex female schools), this unit aims to present the Bible's true and transformative message of women's equality and value while highlighting some of Jesus' remarkable interactions with women and their vital role in the gospels.

We're sure you'll love our new study:
Women of the Bible
and Beyond (p. 23).

Thank you for the work you do.
We are honoured to serve alongside you.
Have a great 2026!

The team at CEP

All our primary curricula are comprised of colour Student activity books with age-appropriate learning and extensive Teacher's manuals with clear, structured lesson plans, multiple-intelligence extension exercises, music, prayers, drama and more.

Hello God!

The perfect introduction to the Christian faith. This program covers the themes of God's character, his world and promises, and what it looks like to trust and live for him.

See page 6.

Connect

Infants

Cycle A examines what it looks like to know and trust God in both the Old Testament (Semester 1) and the New Testament (Semester 2).

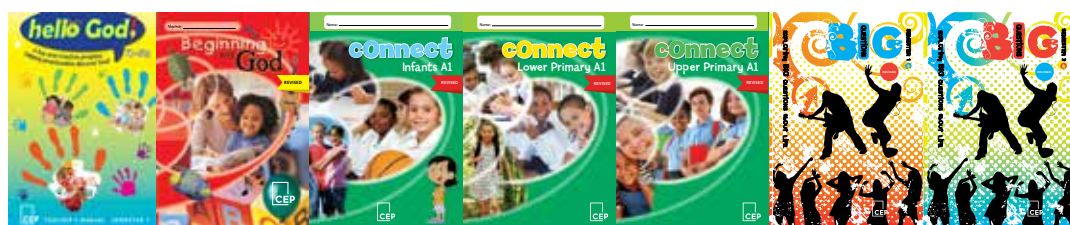

See pages 8-9.

Connect

Upper Primary

Cycle A. The same themes as Infants and Lower Primary, but at a Stage 3 learning level.

PRESCHOOL HELLO GOD!

Hello God! is a wonderful preschool program for children aged 3–5, designed to introduce them to a broad understanding of the Christian faith. The one-year curriculum (in two semesters) uses both Old and New Testament passages to look at themes such as God's character, his world and promises, and what it means to trust him.

The Teacher's pack includes a manual full of detailed preparation notes, 20 colour posters, lesson aims and outcomes, and age-appropriate songs and movement music.

Learning outcomes

By the end of Hello God!, students will:

- know that the Bible teaches that God created the world and everything in it, humans choose to not obey him, and he sent his Son, Jesus, so we could once again be his friends
- understand that God loves them and is trustworthy and powerful
- consider how what they learn about God and Jesus affects their lives.

sold

Beginning with God is a one-year, standalone program that paints a big picture of the God of all creation and his unfolding plans, culminating in Jesus.

The accompanying Student activity book contains a double-sided worksheet for each lesson, which is perforated so that students can take their work home each week.

The Visual aid pack features 18 posters of the biblical events, characters and stories covered in the lessons. Also included are digitised versions of all images.

Learning outcomes

By the end of Beginning with God, students will:

- know that we learn about God, his plans and his Son Jesus through the Bible
- be able to recall some of the teachings of Jesus, the things he did, and why his death and resurrection are so important to Christians
- have a growing sense of God's love for them and his desire to be their friend, and know that this is only possible through Jesus.

LESSON 8
Luke 19:1-10

Adam/Eve Cain/Abel Noah Jesus Other Old Testament people and events Other New Testament people and events People today

Seeking the lost

DID YOU KNOW?
TAX COLLECTORS The Romans demanded many taxes from both their local people and the countries they conquered. Tax collectors were often of low people but to pay, and expensive taxes were often demanded. Tax collectors were hated and considered unclean (unclean) to take part in Jewish religious activities. The Jewish leaders would not eat or associate with tax collectors.

Jesus was going through Jericho, "where a man named Zacchaeus lived. He was in charge of collecting taxes and was very rich."
"Jesus was heading his way, and Zacchaeus wanted to see what he was like. But Zacchaeus was a short man and could not see over the crowd. So he ran ahead and climbed up into a sycamore tree. When Jesus got there, he looked up and said, 'Zacchaeus, hurry down! I want to stay with you today.' Zacchaeus hurried down and gladly welcomed Jesus."

"Everyone who saw this started grumbling. This man Zacchaeus is a sinner! And Jesus is going home to eat with him!"

"Later that day Zacchaeus stood up and said to the Lord, 'I will give half of my property to the poor. And I will now pay back four times as much to everyone I have ever cheated.'"

Jesus said to Zacchaeus, "Today you and your family have been saved, because you are a true son of Abraham. 'The Son of Man came to seek and to save people who are lost.' Luke 19:1-10 (CEV)"

YOU KNOW?
Jericho was about 17 km northwest of the Dead Sea. It had a good water supply, and it was a thriving city. It had a thriving industry from its location through the city and beyond its walls.

THE JERICHO REPORT

Here in the wealthy trade city of Jericho today, the controversial character Jesus of Nazareth continues to stir up the crowds and be at the centre of surprising events. I have been the most at the centre of today's news, one of the city's wealthiest and most disliked men named Zacchaeus. So, could you please tell the viewers your occupation?

How did you come to meet Jesus today, and what did he say to you?

How did you feel? What did you do?

How did the crowd respond to all of this?

Zacchaeus, I believe that in response to Jesus, you then did a remarkable thing that has everyone in Jericho talking. Could you tell the viewers how you have responded to Jesus?

Jesus of Nazareth was unavailable for interview this evening, but explained that his mission was to look for and to save people who are lost and who need to know how to become God's friends. He has certainly transformed the life of Zacchaeus, the chief tax collector here in Jericho.

Write the key words for this week on the Word wall.

CONSEQUENCES	RESCUE
TEMPTATION	SIN
CREATION	PURPOSE
PSALM	BIBLE

See of Man!
This term we used to search the Bible as a team who suffered. It also referred to God's love who would judge and rule in God's Kingdom (Daniel 7).

STAGE 3 BIG QUESTIONS

Big Questions is offered as an alternative to Connect for the final year of primary. It uses an open questioning style of learning where students share their own opinions and investigate the Bible, looking at how its teachings intersect with our culture and what this means to them.

Big Questions tackles such issues as 'What is God really like?', 'What does it mean to be human and made in God's likeness?', 'How do I find meaning in my life?' and 'How do I make choices about my future?'

Learning outcomes

By the end of this unit, students will have:

- knowledge and understanding in relation to the character of God, the uniqueness and value of humans, and the historical reliability of the New Testament
- skills in relation to handling the Bible with confidence, engaging in discussion, and investigation
- values and attitudes in relation to the Christian view of life, how God changes people, and the value of relationships.

SECONDARY - STAGES 4, 5 & 6

CEP's secondary resources are suitable for a range of year groups. They are of varied length and are designed to fit into your existing program. Each unit contains multiple activities built around each theme and subject to suit various learning styles. You will always have more material to choose from than you will need.

CEP has over 20 separate units for secondary RE, so where might you start? The 8 units highlighted below, could form the basis of a Scope and Sequence that aims to achieve the following learning intentions:

1. an understanding of the structure, themes and overarching story of the Bible (Finding Your Way - Stage 4&5)
2. an understanding of the life, message and meaning of Jesus of Nazareth (Mistaken Identity - Stage 4&5)
3. an understanding of what the Christian life 'looks like' and how it differs from morality and Old Testament religion (Another Dimension - Stage 4&5)
4. an appreciation of the significance of the physical bodily resurrection of Jesus and why the biblical explanation is the most coherent and probable (The Resurrection - Stage 5&6)
5. an understanding of the dominant secular ethical systems of thought, their pros and cons, and the sufficiency of a Christian ethical framework (The Good, the Bad and the Ethical - Stage 5&6)
6. an understanding of secular world views, their pros and cons, and the sufficiency of a Christian world view (A Spectator's Guide to World Views - Stage 5&6)
7. an appreciation and understanding of the beliefs, practices and history of the world's five biggest faiths (A Doubter's Guide to World Religions - Stage 5&6)
8. to be challenged by the examples of Christian compassion and forgiveness of martyr Dr Graham Staines and his wife, Gladys, in the most difficult of circumstances (The Least of These - Stage 6).

Finding Your Way

The poetry of The Psalms teaches us profound biblical truths as an innate human response to the God of the universe. All the emotions are here (and validated): fear and longing, cries of joy, anger and sorrow.

Unit outcomes

By the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- explain a psalm by identifying its key elements and how these elements connect with each other
- interpret the meaning of a psalm in light of its poetic genre
- reflect clearly on their own circumstances and consider the implications of the Psalms for their own lives.

Your Sneaking Suspicions? shows students that the Christian faith is more than resilient—it offers answers where it matters. Aussie author, John Dickson, winsomely explores the broad themes of faith before examining the life of Christ.

Unit outcomes

By the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- articulate various popular responses to, and views on, issues such as the purpose of sex, the value of beauty, and why there is suffering in the world
- give their opinion on a number of these issues and give reasons to support their views
- explain the author's argument regarding the wisdom of looking into the claims of Jesus and the resilience of the Christian faith.

Our culture has an insatiable appetite for the other-worldly. War of the Spirit World offers the Bible's perspective on what is real, what has no power over us, and where the world is heading. Evil and suffering is real, but God is indeed in control and has a secure future in store for all who follow him.

Unit outcomes

By the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- appreciate that the Bible gives us an understanding of certain elements about end times but does not give us exact dates and intricate details
- recognise that God deals with his creation justly
- understand that God is sovereign, so we do not need to fear the evil one.

You: An Introduction leads students to consider various aspects of their identity living in a postmodern world, such as being free, being a child, having dreams, and one day, facing death. What does 'being human' look like when we put God, rather than ourselves, at the centre?

Unit outcomes

By the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- identify the various means by which individuals establish a sense of identity
- recognise the tensions between the freedoms and responsibilities that our culture affords us
- articulate how the Christian ideas of being made in the image of God, being saved, and living for Christ affect our purpose and how we view ourselves.

Suffering touches us all, believers and non-believers alike. In If I Were God, I'd End All the Pain, Aussie author John Dickson looks at this age-old human struggle and the affront it is to our ideals of the good life and our sense of control. He propounds that a reasoned response to the problem of suffering is an essential part of Christian maturity.

Unit outcomes

By the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- understand the various faith positions on the 'problem of suffering'
- appreciate the different ways Christian people have responded to suffering and evil and articulate the reasons for the hope they have
- explain how, within the Christian faith, the cross is central to God's solution to human suffering.

Women of the Bible and Beyond

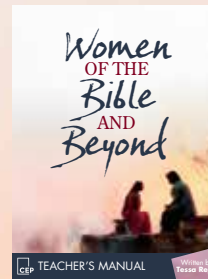

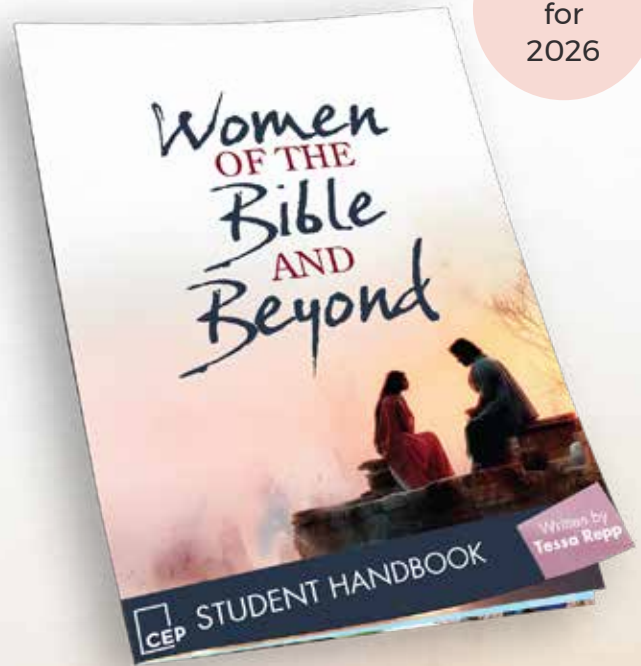

God's plan is for the restoration of humanity into right relationship with him, to his glory. This is everyone's story.

Where and who are the women in this story?

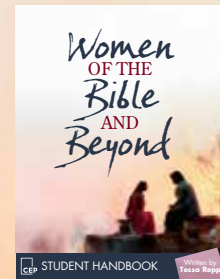

This new unit will help students see the extraordinary and diverse role of women, from the biblical account of creation to Jesus, from the early church to the present day. As key figures in the Bible and key eyewitnesses of some of its most significant events, women have a remarkable place in shaping God's word and his world.

If the contributions of women seem less visible or less valuable it is not due to the Bible's message. Women of the Bible and Beyond illuminates the Bible's true and transformative picture of the mutual value and worth of both women and men and their partnership in the fulfilment of God's plan. Any misconceptions that the Bible is an outdated or sexist text that devalues or oppresses women are clearly addressed.

Here is a message equally essential for young men and women. Society thrives when everyone understands their value and unity in God's purposes. After all, Jesus did not come declaring a different gospel for men and women. In the story of salvation there is 'neither male nor female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus'.

Unit outcomes

By the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- describe significant events that have changed the course of history over the past 2,000 years, for better or worse
- appreciate the influence of the lives and careers of certain key individuals in the history of the church

The Good, the Bad and the Ethical is an extremely practical unit that examines numerous ethical issues from the global to the personal. Designed to generate discussion as students identify and analyse their own motives and prejudices, it will assist students to develop a considered ethical framework—something crucial as they negotiate their way through life.

Unit outcomes

By the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- explain secular approaches to ethics, and critique them for strengths, weaknesses and limitations
- formulate a Christian response to ethics, even if such a response is not their own
- assess ethical questions from the point of view of a range of ethical systems and processes.

10:10 investigates Jesus' extraordinary claim, 'I have come that you might have life to the full', by contrasting it with the pre-eminent cultural ideals of the good life. John's Gospel, while full of challenging, complex and rich imagery, paints a beautiful picture of life in Jesus.

Unit outcomes

By the end of this unit, students will be able to:

- examine the evidence for Jesus' claims by identifying the 'signs' in John's Gospel, and be able to articulate what Jesus' offer of 'life to the full' might look like
- recognise Johannine language and usage
- appreciate the depth that Old Testament allusions and references bring to John's Gospel.

Centre for Christian Education

'Where will we find the Christian teachers we need for our school?'

Schools need more teachers. Schools need more Christian teachers. And schools need Christian teachers who have expertise, not only in their chosen subjects, but also in how the Christian faith brings 'the aroma of life' to every aspect of school education and life.

Centre for Christian Education provides theological education for Christian teachers so they might engage the hearts of children and young people with the gospel in every aspect of the school community.

Two pathways are offered:

- Option 1 for FUTURE TEACHERS

For those who want the best gospel preparation before gaining a teaching qualification through an approved teacher education course at university. It's a pathway for schools to recruit more Christians into teaching.

- OPTION 2 FOR CURRENT TEACHERS

Professional Development for those who have already gained their teaching qualification. This is for new or seasoned school teachers, whether in the first year or the fifteenth year of teaching.

'I am delighted that we have formalised a pathway for more Christians to enter the teaching profession and to deepen the gospel-expertise of Christian teachers in every school context. No doubt you can think of a number of students in your care who would make excellent Christian teachers. Please consider introducing them to the Centre for Christian Education as a first step towards this worthy, and much needed, vocation.'

The Rev Mike Dicker Principal, Youthworks College
